

CT Overnight Parking Guide

This guide has been put together with the assistance of several volunteers with the Florida Paddling Trails Association and with the cooperation of marinas, county parks and state parks. It is useful for those who are paddling the trail in segments. Even if state parks are not listed here, many parks allow for overnight parking for a daily entrance fee per day, unless otherwise stated below. While parking at a state park would be considered more secure than most, there are still no guarantees. Ensure that valuables are not visible through a window and any watercraft should be locked onto racks. Leave a visible float plan in the window or with a responsible person and notify park or marina personnel of your intentions before leaving a vehicle.

If you are a long-distance CT paddler, it is recommended that you register with the Florida Paddling Trails Association. You can become eligible for assistance along with valuable parking advice from the volunteer Trail Angel Network.

Please help us keep this guide current by reporting any changes or new information to: justin.baldwin@floridadep.gov.

Big Lagoon State Park

Paddlers will either call ahead or just show up wishing to start the circumnavigational paddling trail. The park offers a small primitive camp site near the trailhead as well as long term parking for them.

When they arrive at the park, whether they are camping or not, the park has long distance paddlers fill out a “camper card” with all of their information and gives them a camper hangtag for their vehicle. This identifies them as kayak campers to other staff and helps late shift Rangers identify that the vehicle is permitted to be in the park after hours. The park typically charges normal entry fees for those just wishing to leave a vehicle and Primitive Group Camp fees for those wishing to overnight at the campsite.

Walton County

No overnight parking allowed at county ramps, although some exceptions can be made for coordinated events. Contact the Parks Department at 850-892-8700.

- Sebastian

Park at the Boat Truck-trailer parking lot at Coolidge Street and Indian River Drive. The launch is across the street (Indian River Drive) next to the large blue 2-story building at Mulligan's Beach House restaurant. Park behind the Speedway gas station in the lot, as these are single non-boat trailer parking spots. Do not confuse this Southern launch ramp with another smaller city ramp 1 mile north. From the water, look for the Blue 2-story Mulligan's Beach House.

Brevard County Parks

Although some people have successfully parked at county parks and launches that are open 24 hours a day, the county does not officially allow for overnight parking due to liability issues. No overnight parking is allowed at the Titusville Marina.

Volusia County

Free parking is available along the street at the City Marina in New Smyrna Beach (201 N Riverside Dr., 32168), but space is limited. Notify the marina if parking. If launching, use the city launch located on North Causeway (170 North Causeway) or the west causeway ramp (160 North Causeway). Both ramps charge a $20 per day parking fee with no overnight parking allowed.

River Breeze Park (250 H.H. Burch Road, Oak Hill; 386-736-5953) and Highbridge Park (39 Highbridge Road, Ormond Beach) ramps are open 24 hours a day with no fees.

Duval County

Overnight parking is available as Sisters Creek Joe Carlucci Ramp at the confluence of Sisters Creek and the St. Johns River on the main CT route, Jim King Park and Boat Ramp at Sisters Creek Marina on the CT route, and McCue Park and Boat Ramp along the Intracoastal Waterway on the CT in the southern part of the county.

Nassau County

Overnight parking at no charge is available at these county ramps along the Intracoastal Waterway: Goffinsville Nassau River Park and Ramp and Holly Point. These ramps are 2-3 miles from the main CT route along rivers and side creeks.
