Notice of availability of funds for State Agencies, Water Management Districts, and Regional Planning Councils

The Florida Coastal Management Program (FCMP) announces the availability of federal funds for research or coordination efforts in areas of special management or to help achieve hazard resilient communities. Examples of areas of special management would include, but not be limited to Areas of Critical State Concern, Critical Wildlife Areas, and Surface Water Improvement and Management waterbodies. The proposed projects should be able to be completed within 12 months. They should be designed to generate and provide information, plans, or meet needs for protection, coordination and response to hazards along Florida’s coast and in coastal areas of special management.

Financial assistance is available in the form of reimbursement grants ranging from $15,000 to $74,000, depending upon availability of federal coastal management funds received from the National Oceanic & Atmospheric Administration (NOAA). The FCMP anticipates that grant recipients will not be required to provide non-federal matching funds or services.
