Marion Knowles
Regional Planner
South Florida Regional
Planning Council

Marion Knowles is a Regional Environmental Planner at the South Florida Regional Planning Council with Master's degrees in Urban and Regional Planning and Public Administration. Her work focuses on improving the resilience of communities within Broward, Miami-Dade, and Monroe County by providing technical assistance on policy, grant writing, vulnerability assessments, comprehensive planning, and Geographic Information Systems (GIS).

The presentation "Economic Impact of Miami-Dade SUN Trails" explores how urban trails such as "The Underline" can support economic activity by providing valuable connections to transit, boosting commercial sales, and reducing health costs by increasing physical activity levels, ultimately becoming vital infrastructure to the urban landscape.
