REGISTRATION EXAMINATION

The examination is open book. It consists of one-hundred (100) questions based on Chapter 64E-6, Florida Administrative Code, (FAC), sections 381-0065 - 381-00655 of Chapter 381 and Part III, Chapter 489, FS. A minimum score of 75% is required. Applicants who pass the examination must pay a $100.00 fee to complete registration. Registrations expire on September 30th following the effective date of the certificate. Contractors must complete a minimum of six classroom hours of approved training for renewal each year.

AUTHORIZING A SEPTIC TANK BUSINESS

Most septic tank contracting services require a certificate of authorization. The structure of a business determines whether a certificate of authorization is required. Septic tank contracting businesses which are sole proprietorships operating under the full name of the owner are not required to obtain a certificate of authorization. An individual offering contracting services under a fictitious name is required to obtain a certificate of authorization. Businesses which are structured as partnerships, associations or corporations are also required to obtain a certificate of authorization. All contractors who act in behalf of the business as contractors and one or more of the principal officers must be registered septic tank contractors. The certificate of authorization is valid for a two-year period, expiring on March 31th of odd years. The biennial application fee for a certificate of authorization is $250.00. If application is made within the second year of this period, a pro-rated fee of $125.00 is required. Application for a certificate of authorization is made after completing registration requirements.

Out-of-state work experience on a year for year basis shall be accepted for any applicant who demonstrates that they hold a current statewide license for septic tank contracting which was issued upon satisfactory completion of an equivalent examination and required continuing education courses for renewal. For purposes of this section, an equivalent examination means that at a minimum, the following topics were tested and passed: system location and installation; site evaluation criteria; system size determinations; disposal of septage; construction standards for drainfield systems and U.S. Department of Agriculture soil textural classification system. A person employed by and under the supervision and control of such a licensed contractor shall be granted up to two years of related work experience.

5. Is septic tank work experience documented with IRS Form 1099 acceptable to qualify for the septic tank contractor registration examination?

No. IRS Form 1099 specifically documents non-employee compensation for services rendered. This type of work experience indicates a possible subcontractual relationship between a registered septic tank contractor and an individual who is not allowed under Florida rules and statutes to offer to contract or provide septic tank contracting activities.

6. When and where are septic tank contractor registration examinations offered?

Examinations are offered in Tallahassee and Orlando on the last Monday of each month (excluding December and holidays). Examinations are scheduled from 9:00 AM to 12:00 Noon.

No.

8. Are there any penalties for individuals or companies who offer or provide septic tank contracting services without a registration and/or a business authorization from the department?

Yes. Individuals and companies may be subject to administrative actions, citations, fines and other legal actions, if services are performed or offered without the benefit of a registration and a business authorization.

During this time, the authorized business may not undertake any new contracts. Existing and ongoing (cyclical) contracts executed by the registered septic tank contractor prior to his or her disassociation with the authorized business may be completed during this time.

12. Who offers continuing education courses required for registration renewals?

Continuing education courses are typically offered by private associations (i.e, Florida Onsite Wastewater Association, Florida Environmental Health Association, etc.) You may contact the Bureau of Environmental Health for listings of approved continuing education courses.

13. Can a registered septic tank contractor be exempt from the certificate of business authorization?

Yes. A registered contractor offering septic tank contracting under his given name, as a sole proprietorship, is exempt from the business authorization certificate. Example: John Doe Septic, with John Doe as the only owner would not be required for filing. If John Doe's wife Jane were also an owner, a fictitious name would need to be filed and a certificate of authorization would be required. Also, John's Septic or Doe's Septic would require the filing of a fictitious name and a certificate of authorization. If you are exempt from filing with the Department of State for a fictitious name, you are exempt from the certificate of authorization.
